

Dear Colleagues,

currently we are editing a special issue of "Pharmacological Reports" on the subject of "Role of G-proteins and GPCR-Mediated Signaling in The Pathophysiology and Treatment of Psychiatric Disorders". I would like to invite you and your colleagues to submit articles (reviews and original research papers) to this special issue. We believe that your specialist knowledge would be of great value to this planned issue.

Authors interested in submitting a paper on the mentioned topic are invited to e-mail a title of the article and the list of authors to the special issue editors (e-mails given below). Manuscripts should be received by 31 January, 2021.

Please submit articles using the following link:

<https://www.editorialmanager.com/prep/default.aspx>

Detailed information regarding the scope of the special issue is available on the journal homepage:
